

PUBLISHED WEEKLY,

BY THE

AMERICAN A. S. SOCIETY,

at 142 Nassau Street, New-York.

SYDNEY HOWARD GAY, Editor.

All communications for the paper, and letters relating to its pecuniary concerns, should be addressed to the Editor.

Donations to the Treasury of the American Anti-slavery Society may be forwarded to Amos T. Jackson, treasurer, at Battery or No. 54, of Nassau Street,

New-York.

TERMS.—One Dollar per annum: strictly in advance in all cases.

H. M. KENNY, PRINTER.

"The Peculiar Institution"

From the Baltimore Visitor.

JOHN RANDOLPH ON SLAVERY.

A few years since the death of Mr. Randolph, he was mourning, during the winter of 1840, the walking from his lodgings in Washington to the city, in order to visit the friends of his race.

It happened, that as he passed along the Pennsylvania

Avenue, he fell into company with Edward St.

an eminent minister here, who was going to the house, when he was acquainted. As they were passing along the street, they were joined by a crowd of coloured women and children, followed by twenty or thirty harmless and chained together, and guarded by two armed white men, on horseback. This spectacle coming as it did, and in the presence of a strong sensation in them both, and they involuntarily stopped until the whole had passed, without a word being spoken. Mr. St. said, "I have known a shocking spectacle like this, and have known it under the shadow of the Capitol of the United States! We profess to be the advocates of equal rights, and claim to be the friends of the oppressed,

and yet we here see before us a number of our fellows-men, without having committed any crime, and yet here they are, chained by their hands, or by their feet, or by their arms, and are being driven, chained like condemned criminals, and driven to the very spot where they are to be sold in session, like beasts to market! The nations of Europe have their several ministers and representatives here, who will witness this scene, and probably, will make it known to their respective countries. What will be the result? Will they think of us, when they will learn that the face of all our boasted professions shrouded in darkness, and that the cruel oppression of our fellow-men is to be openly perpetrated upon us? Will they say, "We will not permit this?"

I think not. But I think that the people of this country will think of it, and will be convinced, and I wholly disregard it." He then replied, "I have seen this scene, and I have seen it under the shadow of the Capitol of the United States! But when I reflect upon what God will do for us, I confess to you that I

trouble for any country!"

From the Non-Resistant.

ABDUCTION.

A case, involving the abduction, and subsequent recovery by purchase of a coloured slave, twenty years of age, and who, since his eleven years of age, resided in Baltimore, was tried at Philadelphia, has occasioned considerable excitement

in that usually quiet village. The individual abducted, had been the property, at the time of his abduction, of a man living in Maryland, and his half brother had been taken to the same place, and was being held there, and was being

held there, and was being held there, and was

being held there, and was being held there, and

was being held there, and was being held there,

and was being held there, and was being held

there, and was being held there, and was being

held there, and was being held there, and was

being held there, and was being held there, and

was being held there, and was being held there,

and was being held there, and was being held

there, and was being held there, and was being

held there, and was being held there, and was

being held there, and was being held there, and

was being held there, and was being held there,

and was being held there, and was being held

there, and was being held there, and was being

held there, and was being held there, and was

being held there, and was being held there, and

was being held there, and was being held there,

and was being held there, and was being held

there, and was being held there, and was being

held there, and was being held there, and was

being held there, and was being held there, and

was being held there, and was being held there,

and was being held there, and was being held

there, and was being held there, and was being

held there, and was being held there, and was

being held there, and was being held there, and

was being held there, and was being held there,

and was being held there, and was being held

there, and was being held there, and was being

held there, and was being held there, and was

being held there, and was being held there, and

was being held there, and was being held there,

and was being held there, and was being held

there, and was being held there, and was being

Without Concealment—Without Compromise.

The first question, in substance, whether the "notice"

referred to in this section must be in writing.

The second question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The third question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The fourth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The fifth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The sixth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The seventh question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The eighth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The ninth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The tenth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The eleventh question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The twelfth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The thirteenth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The fourteenth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The fifteenth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The sixteenth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The seventeenth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The eighteenth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The nineteenth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The twentieth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The twenty-first question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The twenty-second question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The twenty-third question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The twenty-fourth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The twenty-fifth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The twenty-sixth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The twenty-seventh question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The twenty-eighth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The twenty-ninth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The thirtieth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The thirty-first question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The thirty-second question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The thirty-third question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The thirty-fourth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The thirty-fifth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The thirty-sixth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The thirty-seventh question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The thirty-eighth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The thirty-ninth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The fortieth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The forty-first question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The forty-second question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The forty-third question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The forty-fourth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The forty-fifth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The forty-sixth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The forty-seventh question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The forty-eighth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The forty-ninth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The fiftieth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The fifty-first question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The fifty-second question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The fifty-third question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The fifty-fourth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The fifty-fifth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

of five hundred dollars."—Laws by S. &amp; L.

385, 385, act of Feb. 12, 1793.

The first question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The second question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The third question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The fourth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The fifth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The sixth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The seventh question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The eighth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The ninth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The tenth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The eleventh question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The twelfth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The thirteenth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The fourteenth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The fifteenth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The sixteenth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The seventeenth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The eighteenth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The nineteenth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The twentieth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The twenty-first question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The twenty-second question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The twenty-third question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The twenty-fourth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The twenty-fifth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The twenty-sixth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The twenty-seventh question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The twenty-eighth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The twenty-ninth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The thirtieth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The thirty-first question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The thirty-second question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The thirty-third question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The thirty-fourth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The thirty-fifth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The thirty-sixth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The thirty-seventh question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The thirty-eighth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The thirty-ninth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The fortieth question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The forty-first question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

The forty-second question, in substance, whether the

notice must be in writing, or may be given orally.

During middle of broken windows, the crashing of the doors of known aristocrats, now and then shouts were fired in blind rage, as National Guards and militia-men joined them, increasing their numbers, and they received these recruits with a continuous roar of enthusiasm. Soon a new cry was heard, as the furious rabble called for the city to be illuminated. "Candles, light, light!" they cried, "celebrate the great days, citizens of the Cape. Hurrah for Paria—Lafayette! Lafayette! Lafayette!" the Committee of the Deputies. They have caught the baker and the little hawk-boy, they have destroyed the traitors, we will do likewise." Such was the effect of the news of the arrest of the traitors, the arrest of the king, the imprisonment of the King, and of the arrest of the traitor. Personal and his associates had called upon the rabble to follow the sublime example of Commissionaries discharged to-day, brought me a message from Tostard. Her what he says: 'The waters of Saratoga can alone cure such patients.' I was very afraid, make haste, your authority is still in some degree respected. Hasten to the Mole St. Nicholas. So that Gibraltar you will have time to consider. There you can unfold the banner of the real lie, or start for America, if you receive no support. You must away from this place where they would bring you down.

Charlmy grasped both hands of the General, who fixed his eyes on the ground, struggling for resolution. He could not believe that his condition was so bad; that the Congressmen were dare to lay hands on him; the best of the Government at its mercy. And yet he shuddered when he remembered the late scenes, and he almost came to a de-

And ever since the Redeemer walked with us," said exiles as they were committed by crueted in the Holy Land, such sufferings as were inflicted by the preists of the Church of Rome to the Inquisition, such murders as were perpetrated in the authority of the Church of England: The soldiers of Bartholomew—the state of Smirfield, and the three accursed flames Which Calvin kindled, by Geneva's lake. New Zealand's senfold, and the priestly sneer When mocked its rivin' in the hour of fear, When guilt itself a human tear might elate, Our witness, O thou wrong'd! and merciful One! That earth's most hateful crimes have in Thy name been done!"

[illegible]

KIM, Philadelphia, Pa
 KIRK, Providence, R I
 KIRK, Palmyra, "
 KIRK, Farmington, Ontario on N Y
 KIRK, Clinton, Waterloo,
 KIRK, Sherwood's Corners, Cayuga co N Y
 KIRK, Berlin, Ohio,
 KIRK, W. Alcott, Boston, Mass
 KIRK, New Lebanon, Columbians co Ohio
 KIRK, Ash. Marlborough, Stark co Ohio
 KIRK, Short Creek, Harrison co, Ohio
 KIRK, Springfield, Mass
 KIRK, Ludlowville, N Y
 KIRK, Hiram, Potomac co N Y
 KIRK, Nicholson Harveysburg, Warren county,
 KIRK, Buffalo, N Y
 KIRK, Eaton, Bridge-water, Mass.
 KIRK, Johnson's Creek, Niagara county, N Y
 KIRK, Bliss, Worcester, Mass.
 KIRK, Concord, Mass
 KIRK, West Winfield, N. Y.

J. MILLEN M'KIM, Philadelphia, Pa.
ANASTASY PATKE, Providence, R. I.
PLINY SUTTON, Pelham, N. Y.
J. C. HATHAWAY, Pemberton, Ontario, N. Y.
THOMAS MCCLINTOCK, Waterloo, N. Y.
THOMAS HOWLAND, Sherborn's Course, Caryusport N. Y.
L. STONE, Chicago, Ill.
ROBERT F. WALCOTT, Boston, Mass.
JESSE HOLMES, New Lisbon, Connecticut Co. Ohio
G. C. THENTON, Marlborough, St. Lawrence Co. N. Y.
ISAAC LEVINE, Columbus, Stark Co., Ohio
E. D. HUDSON, Springfield, Mass.
JAMES A. BEER, Loudville, N. Y.
ROBERT C. BATES, Hiram, Port of Erie
VALENTINE CRONK, Buffalo, N. Y.
WARRICK, Warrick, Warrick Co., Ind.
WILLIAM B. LARSON, Bridgewater, Mass.
DAVID K. COOK, Newburgh, N. Y.
WILLIAM R. BATES, Worcester, Mass.
A. B. RUSHLOW, Concord, Mass.
L. G. THOMAS, West Windsor, N. Y.